"IEBA is very pleased to announce two special free offers in June"

1. Complimentary Staff Membership

If an Organisation is a current annual membership holder with IEBA, all of the staff within that organisation can now take advantage of this special offer to become Individual Members of IEBA.

This will enable staff to receive special offers direct to their inbox, participate in learning opportunities, join in our weekly webinars and as a part of the national IEBA network contribute to discussion about Indigenous education and boarding.

An annual Individual Membership is valued at $55. Read-on for the details on how to take up this free offer.

2. Professional Development from Torrens University Australia

IEBA has partnered with Torrens University Australia (TUA) to offer free access for IEBA members to over $6,000 worth of Torrens University Short Course programs.

Categories include People and Culture, Management and Leadership, Business and Finance, Project Management, Marketing and Design.

These Short Courses are online, self-contained, self-paced learning modules of 1-2 hours duration that feature industry leaders. This is the TUA way of being Here for Good. Each course will come with a Certificate of Completion from the University, which can be useful in demonstrating continuing professional development.

Individual and Organisation Members of IEBA are eligible to benefit from this offer and can take as many short courses as they like. Details of how to take up this offer are below.
